

Message from the Speaker

Eid-al-Adha advocates personal acts of sacrifice that ultimately serve the greater good and move society closer to a more inclusive, co-operative and peaceful world. Today, as Muslims celebrate the festival of sacrifice, we recognize the contributions of Muslim communities to the cultural milieu and the socio-economic landscape of Alberta. A tapestry woven of many cultures, ethnicities and religions, our province celebrates an active and vibrant Muslim community of over 115,000. Alberta is also home to not only the first but also the largest mosque complex in the nation.

On behalf of all Members of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta I am honoured to bring greetings in recognition of the 2014 Eid Reunion and to thank the Bangladesh Heritage and Ethnic Society of Alberta for their continued support of cultural diversity in Alberta.

Eid Mubarak.

Sincerely,
